

SOON BEGIN TO SPEND MONEY

When Mr. Grosscup Reaches Norfolk Part of Million Will Be Available.

MAY BUILD ANOTHER PIER

If Management Receives Co-Operation of Owners of Riparian Rights This Will Be Done.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., February 12.—Mr. Frederick Grosscup, of Charleston, W. Va., who has been designated by Secretary Shaw to supervise the disbursement of $1,000,000 loaned to the Jamestown Exposition by the government, will arrive in Norfolk next Friday, and will have his desk in the office of auditor of the exposition. As soon as he is prepared for his work, the loan will be available, and the distribution of it will begin. Under the provision of the bill just passed by Congress providing for the loan, $100,000 of the amount is not available.

Mr. C. B. Brown, chairman of the board of governors; Mr. Barton Myers, governor of ways and means, and Mr. T. J. Wool, general counsel of the Exposition Company, returned this morning from Washington, where they went Sunday night to arrange for the execution of the loan by which the loan could be made ready for the use of the Exposition Company. Mr. Alvah H. Martin, first vice-president of the Exposition Company, who was also in the party, will not return from the National Capital until tomorrow. The money will be disbursed under the direction of President Tucker, Mr. Martin and Mr. Johnston.

Build Another Pier.

"If the exposition management receives the cooperation of the owners of riparian rights in the property and of other interests, which will be benefited, there will be constructed another large pier on the Elizabeth River, and it will be completed by the time of the opening of the exposition." This statement was made this morning by Mr. Myers, governor, in reference to recent discussion of the needs of another commercial pier on the Elizabeth River for properly handling the crowds that will visit the tercentennial. Continuing, Mr. Myers said: "The pier in Willoughby Bay was built for landing material and employees coming to the grounds by water during the pre-exposition period, and as a landing for light draft vessels and passengers and freight during the exposition, and to facilitate the handling of these passengers and the freight, the intramural railway tracks will extend to the pier, 2,300 feet from the shore. Unquestionably a number of light draft vessels from Newport News, Old Point Comfort, Hampton and Willoughby Spit will avail themselves at this landing, and the pier will have all the business it can do without interfering with the business that will be done at the pier to be erected on the Elizabeth River."

BRISTOL, Va., February 12.—The temperance people of Bristol have petitioned the election commissioners to call an election for March 7th to vote upon the question of surrendering the present city charter and re-incorporate, in order to take advantage of the Adams law to get rid of saloons.

The temperance people of Bristol, Va., are in accord with this movement, and will petition for an election, if Bristol, Tenn., votes "dry."

The commissioners are not certain that they have authority to call such an election, but will consider the matter to-morrow. The existence of twenty-five saloons hangs in the balance, as the result of this movement.

As far as is known not the slightest objection has been raised to the appearance of the play here the second time.

DANVILLE MAYOR ACQUITS WOOLFOLK

Deputy, Indicted for Jail Delivery, Is Not Held to Be Responsible.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, Va., February 12.—Mr. R. L. Woolfolk, deputy-sergeant and jailer, who was indicted at the term of the grand jury on the charge of carelessness and negligence in allowing eight prisoners to escape from the city jail on January 25th, was given a trial in the Mayor's Court this morning and was acquitted. It was brought out at the hearing to-day that Jailer Woolfolk had accidentally left the main door to the prison unlocked. It was shown that he had pressed his weight against the door, and used every precaution to see that he had locked the prison. The mayor stated that the delivery was just one of those unavoidable accidents, which will happen, and attached no blame to the jailer. The bolt probably revolved back to its original position. Two of the prisoners who escaped have been recaptured.

Will Hughes, a negro prisoner who played the hero act in the recent jail delivery by calling to the officers when the prisoners started to run, and refusing to take advantage of his chance to escape, changed his mind about remaining in custody to-day. While at work on the chauling he slipped the lock from his ankle and made a successful dash for liberty. He was serving nine months for robbery.

WALTON MOORE NOT TO BE A CANDIDATE

Announces That He Will Not Enter Race for Eighth District Place.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ALEXANDRIA, Va., February 12.—R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax county, who was prominently mentioned as a possible successor to the late Representative John F. Rixey, dispelled all doubts of his candidacy this morning when he announced that he would not enter the contest. His reasons for declining to become a candidate, Mr. Moore stated, are imperative.

Mr. Moore also stated that he greatly appreciated the interest his Alexandria friends had manifested in him.

News of the fact that Mr. Moore would not enter the contest was received with regret by many of his Alexandria friends, while on the other hand those who are aspiring for the office were indeed pleased to learn that he had abandoned the idea.

Politicians in this district who are posted asserted that Mr. Moore could have won out easily had he entered the field. Among those mentioned in connection with the office from this city are: Judge Charles E. Nicol, judge of the Circuit Court for this district, and C. C. Carlin, a well-known local lawyer. Both candidates, it is claimed, have a large following.

AFTER PREACHER.

Colored Minister Arrested for Debt.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, Va., February 12.—Rev. C. I. Withrow, a very shrewd negro preacher, a year ago left his charge here owing a number of debts, and went to the Delaplak and other points, where he held revival services. He came to Staunton Saturday evening, and on Sunday preached three times to large congregations. On his arrival on Saturday evening an officer was at the depot awaiting his coming, and took him in charge on a capias for the collection of a debt due J. H. Woodward, and told him he would lock him up if the debt was not paid. Withrow raised the cash to pay this debt.

A number of merchants were after securing capias against him, and one creditor attempted it on Sunday, but it was found that a preacher could not be arrested on a capias on Sunday. The reverend gentleman knew this was the law, and left Sunday night.

IN IRONS NOW.

Man Who Escaped Once Tries Again, But Fails.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., February 12.—A. J. Magstaff, a white man, who escaped from the Norfolk county jail eleven years ago while awaiting trial for house-breaking, and who was recaptured a few months ago and is now being held on a bigamy charge, has again attempted to secure his freedom.

Magstaff had sawed through a bar of his cage when discovered by Deputy Sheriff W. S. Huybert, and was at work picking at the outer jail wall, near Water Street, almost at the identical spot where he made his first escape.

The prisoner is now confined in the murderer's steel cage, and with handcuffs and leg-irons to hold him. It is not thought that he will make another attempt to escape.

QUARRELS WITH BRIDE.

Young Man Makes Good Record in Staunton and Leaves.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, Va., February 12.—Charles Arthur, claiming his home as New York City, came here with his young bride a month ago and put up at a leading hotel. He and his wife had a quarrel last week, and she left for her home in New York. Arthur is an artistic sign-painter, and one of the best ever in Staunton. A few days after his arrival he began the work of painting signs and landscapes, and made good money. On yesterday, however, he left between two suns, owing a large amount of money here, including a large hotel bill. The hotel proprietor swore out a warrant for him, but was unable to catch him.

FRIGHTENS LADY.

She Wakes to Find Man Trying to Enter Her Room.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, Va., February 12.—Mrs. Joe East was badly frightened last night by a man trying to enter her room. She was aroused by a man walking on the tin roof at her rear window, and a few minutes later he tried to open the window to her room. Mrs. East, who lives in a flat, ran out in the hall, and by her screams aroused the other occupants of the building, but when assistance arrived the would-be intruder had slipped. There was quite an excitement in the building for a while.

WALTON MOORE WILL NOT RUN

But Three Candidates for Congress From the Eighth District.

NICOL, CARLIN AND RYAN

Colonel R. E. Lee, Jr., Declines to Discuss Question—He May Run.

BY WALTER EDWARD HARRIS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 12.—It looks very much like there would be but three candidates in the field for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the Eighth Virginia District.

The positive announcement is made to-night by a close friend of Hon. R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax, that Mr. Moore will not be a candidate. It is believed the candidates will be:

Hon. C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria; Judge E. C. Nicol, of Prince William; and Hon. John F. Ryan, of Loudoun.

One of the best-informed men politically in the district said to-night that he did not believe there would be any other candidates. It may be of interest to note that this gentleman ventured the opinion that Mr. Carlin would capture the prize. He based his opinion on the fact that Mr. Carlin is the only candidate representing the "Organization" wing of the party.

Judge Nicol represents the other faction of the party in Virginia, and while Mr. Ryan does not represent either, this fact is not believed to be a source of strength. It is argued that Mr. Ryan and Judge Nicol will divide the vote, which would be cast solidly against Mr. Carlin. A plurality nominates under the plan of the Democratic primary in Virginia.

Mr. Carlin's friends claim that he can secure at least a plurality in the vote cast at the primary. On the other hand, Mr. Carlin is not at all well known in the district, while Judge Nicol and Mr. Ryan are known in every county. Judge Nicol has an especially wide acquaintance. Loudoun is the largest county in the district, and if Mr. Ryan can carry it by a very large majority, his strength in other counties may enable him to pull through.

Great pressure was brought to bear upon Mr. Moore to induce him to become a candidate.

It is quite generally believed that he could have been nominated had he been a candidate, as it is understood that at least one of the other candidates would have withdrawn.

He almost consented to make the race, it is stated, but after further reflection, determined that the demands of his law practice made it impossible for him to consent to become a candidate.

Lee May Run.

There is a possibility that Colonel R. E. Lee will be a candidate. He has steadily refused to say whether he would enter the contest.

Mr. S. R. Donohoe, of Fairfax, announced to-day that he would not be a candidate. He has been urged to enter the fight, but since his term of service in the Virginia Senate, he appears to have made up his mind to stick to private business, and leave politics to his friends.

Other candidates than the three mentioned above may enter the race, but it is not believed that the list will be lengthened.

NEW CHECK ON BANKS.

Will Ask Depositors to Help to Keep Eye on National Banks.

WASHINGTON, February 12.—The Comptroller of the Currency has recently forwarded to all the bank examiners a new bank form, to be used in connection with bank examinations, in order to check up individual depositors' balances. These forms are to be mailed to a number of the customers of each bank at random, and contain a request that the customer verify the amount of his balances on a certain date with the figures given on the bank's books.

It is impossible for a bank examiner to balance any considerable number of accounts in the time given for examination, but it is expected that by selecting a number of accounts at random, if there is any discrepancy in the depositor's ledger, it will be thus discovered.

It should be understood, the comptroller says, that these forms are used solely for the purpose of verifying the correctness of the banks' accounts, and they should not be construed as in any way reflecting upon the bank's conduct, or the credit of the customer to whom they are addressed.

Abolish Loyalty Clause.

WASHINGTON, February 12.—Representative B. Mason, of Texas, to-day introduced in the House a joint resolution repealing section 4716 of the Revised Statutes, which requires loyalty during the Civil War be proven as a condition for the service pension act is broad enough to embrace the Mexican War veterans who subsequently served in the Confederate Army, and in whose interest the resolution was prepared, but that there may be no doubt on the point, he expressed the hope that the statute will be repealed.

Makes Good Impression.

ETNA MILLS, Va., February 12.—The topic of conversation for the last few days, the eloquent and practical sermon preached by Rev. A. T. King at Hebron Baptist Church, near this place, last Sunday. His anecdotes were destined to illustrate how devout some church members are at their country churches, but when they get away from home off in cities they forget the pure life they tried to live. He said their religion did not bear transportation.

Rev. Mr. King has only had charge of Hebron Church for a short while, but he has already gained popularity as an attractive speaker.
